Frequently Asked Questions

What is inclusion?

Inclusion is where individuals of all abilities can recreate together in a safe environment. The Otters is a specialized recreation program for individuals with intellectual disabilities but it's not your only option for swimming as we also offer inclusive group swim lessons. Contact any Salt Lake County facility to sign up for swim lessons and request inclusive services. Reasonable accommodations will be made based on individual needs.

Is this swim club right for my child?

Otters is specifically designed for children who may have a hard time learning in a traditional swim lesson setting, and has an intellectual/developmental disability. If your child needs frequent prompting to stay on task, extra motivation to try new things, is easily distracted, or learns much better with a set routine, the Otter swim club might be right for you. If you are unsure whether to try inclusion/group lessons or the Otters, come to an Otters assessment for a professional recommendation.

Why do we need an assessment to join the Otters?

Prior to registration a required assessment helps us get to know your child to better meet their needs. We assess swim skills so they are placed in the correct level, and an intake form allows you to tell us your child's needs, favorite things, triggers, and any concerns and suggestions for teaching your child.

Are all Otters levels offered at all locations?

No, all levels are not currently offered at all locations. This is a growing program which will be expanding as we have trained staff and appropriate pool time and space. If you are interested in a certain level at a location that doesn't offer it, contact the Aquatic Manager and tell them you would be interested.

Is there a waiting list for this program?

There may be waiting lists for the Otters at some or all locations. This program is in high demand, but we seek to place as many participants as quickly as possible. Once you are in the program, instructors may recommend repeating (very common) or moving up a level. Prior to being placed on the waitlist swimmers must attend an initial assessment.

- All swimmers interested in Otters must attend a one-time initial assessment.
- A caregiver must be present to fill out our intake form.
- Swimmers will be in the water for a short skill test (wear a swim suit).
