SILENCED AMERICAN

As the nation becomes increasingly polarized and people's lives continue to be politicized, we seek to challenge this practice of dehumanization. Through The Silenced American, people can share their stories of triumph, despair, hope and what it means to be an American. In return, we hope our listeners will embrace these authentically human narratives and reach the same conclusion we did — that behind the broad array of social issues in the United States today, we find the faces of real people, with experiences and challenges unlike our own yet, refreshingly normal.

What really drives the immigration debate? It's people, not politics.

Join us for "Only in America with Ali Noorani" podcast, to hear how Americans from all walks of life and from across the political spectrum are experiencing changes in their communities as a result of immigration.

Faith leaders, law enforcement officials, business owners and others speak openly about the way culture, identity and values are shaping and defining our country, and they offer a constructive way forward in the immigration debate.

We all know about the war in Syria, and most of us have an opinion about it, but very few of us have had the opportunity to sit in a refugee's tent and listen to their story. Refugees' Stories aims to change that.

Displaced

A weekly podcast with leading humanitarians, foreign policy makers, and innovators to understand how they think about and tackle global crises.
