WHAT IS THAT POOL SMELL?? CHLORAMINES! Chloramines are molecules, similar to chlorine, that form when chlorine interacts with organic materials like dead skin cells, sweat and urine; and inorganic materials such as personal care products. Chloramines can form and build up rapidly in pool waters when swimmers enter without rinsing. Chloramines are also released into the air through splashing and interactive pool features.

WHY ARE CHLORAMINES BAD? Chloramines decrease chlorine's effectiveness as a sanitizer. It also creates the chlorine smell of pool buildings, causes dry skin and eye irritation, lifeguard lung, and other respiratory issues. In addition contributes to the corrosion of metals around the venue.

WHAT CAN I DO? Always rinse hair & body for at least 15 SECONDS before entering the pool. Showering before entering the pool also protects your skin. Be sure to get yourself & any children out of the pool often and use the restroom and wash hands with soap and water.
