THIS INFORMATION IS BASED ON EVIDENCE OBTAINED FROM THE FOLLOWING WITNESSES:

GEORGE UYEMA, MARK LAMONT, MAXWELL CHRISTEN, RUSTY ANDRADE, Officer J. Kilgore,

DECLARATION OF PROBABLE CAUSE:

The statement of Rusty Andrade that on or about December 21, 2014, he and his friend, Maxwell Christen were walking to his home located in Salt Lake County, Utah after returning from a Christmas party. Andrade's home is located near a gay bar. As Andrade was giving Christen a hug, they were approached by two men, later identified as CHAD R. DOAK and ERIC L. JOHNSON who began speaking aggressively towards them. Christen asked DOAK and JOHNSON to go home and one of them responded by saying "Why? Are you going to go home and suck each other's dicks?" Andrade then asked them again to leave them alone, when one of them responded, "do you want a problem, faggot?" Andrade was then attacked by DOAK and hit multiple times in the face causing him to fall towards the ground. Andrade saw JOHNSON attack Christen as he was being attacked. Andrade's neighboring friend, Mark Lamont, ran over and pulled JOHNSON off Christen and a bouncer from the nearby club helped separate DOAK from Andrade. DOAK and JOHNSON then ran from the scene when they were told police were being contacted. DOAK left his wallet behind at the scene and subsequently returned. As a result of the assault, Andrade sustained a cervical strain, head trauma and rib contusion. Further, several of his teeth were knocked loose which required orthodontic repair.

The statement of Maxwell Christen that he was with Andrade when they were approached by DOAK and JOHNSON who called them "faggots" and made other inflammatory statements concerning their sexual orientation. After telling them they didn't want any trouble, DOAK pushed Andrade and then punched him. He was then attacked by JOHNSON who took him to the ground by his neck. Christen stated that Lamont then ran over and pulled JOHNSON off of him. Christen stated his neck and face were sore after the assault and he sustained a bruise to his chin.

The statement of SLCPD Officer Uyema that he responded to the scene and took statements from Andrade, Christen, and Lamont. As he was speaking to them, DOAK and JOHNSON returned to the scene to retrieve DOAK's wallet and Officer Uyema confirmed their identities. DOAK told Officer Uyema that he "was probably involved" in the altercation but did not remember what happened because he had been drinking. JOHNSON said he was not involved in the altercation in any way.

REQUEST FOR ISSUANCE OF A WARRANT

The State hereby requests that the Court issue a Warrant of Arrest in the above-entitled case based on the nature of the attack and because the Defendants reside in Wyoming rendering service of a Summons difficult.

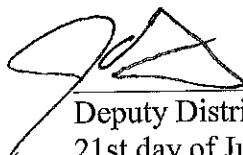

Pursuant to Utah Code Annotated § 78B-5-705 (2008) I declare under criminal penalty of the State of Utah that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my belief and knowledge.
