

The Salt Lake County Winter Innovation Symposium brings together social investors, community innovators, policy makers and practitioners to communicate novel solutions, stimulate partnerships and spawn action to build a healthier community.

The symposium will include a keynote by William Eggers, author of The Solution Revolution, and a presentation by Jeff Edmondson of StriveTogether and Bill Crim of United Way of Salt Lake on Collective Impact. A panel will discuss ways the private and government sectors can work together to address the social determinants of health, including approaches like Pay for Success.
